WE, your Memorialists, the Members of the One Hundred and Nineteenth Legislature of the State of Maine, now assembled in the First Regular Session, most respectfully present and petition the United States Secretary of Transportation as follows:

WHEREAS, recent authorization of the Transportation Equity Act of the 21st Century, referred to in this resolution as "TEA-21," provides funding for the coordinated planning, design and construction of corridors of national significance, economic growth and international or interregional trade during federal fiscal years 1999-2003 under Sections 1118 and 1119 of TEA-21; and

JOINT RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT TO REVERSE ITS DECISION TO DENY SHELTER
PLUS CARE PROGRAM FUNDS

WE, your Memorialists, the Members of the One Hundred and Nineteenth Legislature of the State of Maine now assembled in the First Regular Session, most respectfully present and petition the Honorable Andrew Cuomo, Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, as follows:

WHEREAS, recent United States Department of Housing and Urban Development grant application awards appear to disregard the crucial housing needs of homeless people in rural states such as Maine; and

WHEREAS, overall scoring criteria on the department's continuum-of-care housing applications should better reflect the geographic diversity and financial capacity of the states; and

WHEREAS, the system for distributing important funding to the homeless population of the states should use block grants instead of competitive grants; and

WHEREAS, though we in the State of Maine do appreciate the recent decision of the Department of Housing and Urban Development to fund homeless projects in the city of Portland, Maine, we continue to be concerned about the lack of funding for our Shelter Plus Care Program, which serves Maine's neediest citizens by providing an important safety net throughout the State;
now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That We, your Memorialists, encourage the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development to reverse its decision to deny the Shelter Plus Care Program funds to the State of Maine, and we urge the department to institute policy changes that will distribute funds through a block grant process; and be it further

RESOLVED: That suitable copies of this resolution, duly authenticated by the Secretary of State, be transmitted to the Honorable Andrew Cuomo, Secretary of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development and to each Member of the Maine Congressional Delegation.

JOINT RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS TO SUPPORT A WORLD WAR II MEMORIAL

WE, your Memorialists, the Members of the One Hundred and Nineteenth Legislature of the State of Maine now assembled in the First Regular Session, most respectfully present and petition the President of the United States and the United States Congress, as follows:

WHEREAS, in 1987, United States Representative Marcy Kaptur, at the suggestion of World War II veteran Roger Durbin, introduced legislation to establish a memorial to honor all who served in the Armed Forces of the United States during World War II and the entire nation's contribution to the war effort. The legislation failed, but the interest in having a memorial gained patriotic support and subsequent legislation prevailed; and

WHEREAS, federal Public Law 103-32 authorizing a World War II Memorial in the District of Columbia or its environs was signed into law on May 25, 1993; and

WHEREAS, the Memorial Advisory Board was created to advise the American Battle Monuments Commission in site selection and design and to promote donations to support the memorial construction; and

WHEREAS, a memorial design by Freidrich St. Florian at the site of the historic Rainbow Pool on the National Mall was approved; and

WHEREAS, former Senator Bob Dole and Frederick W. Smith, CEO, Federal Express, were named as National Co-chairmen of the World War II Memorial Campaign; and

WHEREAS, news of the World War II Memorial is currently being spread throughout the country, to every city, town, church, synagogue, mosque, business, civic group, veterans' organization and every other organization that comprises a part of our American culture; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That We, your Memorialists, request the President of the United States and the United States Congress to offer support in obtaining the necessary financial resources to help the World War II Memorial take its rightful place in history; and be it further

RESOLVED: That suitable copies of this resolution, duly authenticated by the Secretary of State, be transmitted to the Honorable William J. Clinton, President of the United States; the President of the United States Senate; the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States; each Member of the Maine Congressional Delegation; and the American Legion, Department of Maine.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Treat.

Senator TREAT: Thank you very much Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, it's a great honor to meet today, to actually be the Senator who gets to represent these fine youths. Monmouth is a very small school, yet here you can see it has tremendous distinction. Here we have a school that excels not only in academics, winning the State Decathlon Championship, not only in athletics with a Class D championship for the Girls Basketball Team in the Western Division, as well as the State Championship, two years running for the Cheerleaders, but also artistically. They are the winners, as the President announced, of the Regional One Act competition for a play. I can just tell you it's a wonderful school to represent. There's always a lot of things going on over there. You have a wonderful feeling when you're there in the hallways of just a lot of activities, interests and school spirit. I think that comes out here today and I hope you'll join me in wishing them good luck for the rest of the year, considering this perhaps Monmouth Academy Day at the Legislature.

(In Senate, March 30, 1999, Reports READ.)

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Penobscot, Senator Mitchell.

Senator MITCHELL: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, I rise today to ask you to please vote against the Ought to Pass motion that's on the floor so that you may join us in voting for the Ought to Pass as Amended by the Committee Amendment 'A', and I would like to explain the reasons for this.

The reason is that we're not against the Start Me Right Program. We also addressed another Bill of which was the home visitation in which we voted to Pass that Bill. Which is the start of a very well organized program that's been worked in Waldo County and some of the other counties successfully. The problem that we have with this Bill is, that there is a lot of money and positions, 10 positions to be added, and there's no program other than the fact that we have a waiting list in some of the counties, but there's no plan of accountability or how this money going to be spent and the cost over four years is going to be 40 million dollars. I feel that unless we could take the time to come back adding a lesser amount of money to this Bill that as it stands I feel with what we are doing in other areas of Health and Human Services to address child care and the Start Me Right program, that we're looking across the table at several things that we need to be doing in education with increasing the GPA. We only have $125 million to make that happen and your looking at $8 million that's going to increase to $9 million the second year on this program. And over 4 years it's going to go to $40 million and we don't know exactly where the money is going to be utilized. Other than that there will be an RFP. The answer was RFPs will be put out and people will be coming in as resources to handle the additional children that can't be handled now. How is that going to happen? What is the plan for accountability? What is the extent of the waiting list at this particular point? I feel that we can't really justify pouring this kind of money into a plan. Why not start with the Head Start Program which does have a defined purpose and does come up with a plan to expand on a full day and for a year-round basis. That is going to help our children from age 0 to 5. I would ask your support in voting against the motion as this Bill is presently presented so that we can vote for the Ought to Pass as Amended Minority Report. Thank you very much.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Aroostook, Senator Paradis.

Senator PARADIS: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, it is a pleasure for me to rise today to ask your support for this Bill. Our hearing was conducted at the Civic Center because of the large number of people who came to speak on it. We literally had hundreds and hundreds of people in the room. We moved the hearing pretty fast. We got a lot of people that were able to testify from all professions and all walks of life. One of the statements that was made repeatedly was that you're funding every acute care bed. We guarantee, and I'll say this again this year before this is over, we guarantee an acute care bed for every child in Maine. We guarantee a jail bed for every child in Maine. We know now from all the brain research how to prevent this kind of expensive service. In the Health and Human Services Committee we felt very, impotent. Very unable to deal with the 30% of the State of Maine's budget that our Committee represents because we're always paying the bills for very, very sick kids. This is one little step in the right direction. Responding to what we heard out there, that there is, very little infrastructure in the state. This is one step in this deliberation.

It's going to move on to another Body and whatever they decide to do in terms of when they put all the Bills together and make decisions and choices. This is letting this process go on. We are looking for solutions. We have not been very good at finding solutions. This is a major, major piece. The United Way tells us that 30 to 40% of our children are presently in child care settings that are not necessarily helpful, healthy, or safe. We need to address this situation in whatever combinations of funds. We do know that Head Start works. But Head Start takes in older children. We're talking about newborns. We have 13,000 of them every year. This is about a drop in the bucket. I urge your support for this very important piece of legislation. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Waldo, Senator Longley.

Senator LONGLEY: Thank you Mr. President and colleges in this Senate. A wonderful old friend who was in the US Senate when she was in her 80's often said, I feel like giving a speech today. So she'd give a speech. I have to say when I was taking a hike on Sunday, I decided I felt like giving a speech today too. I'll appreciate your listening and giving me your time.

Basically Maine's quality of life can be vastly improved for next generations if we begin with quality care. And I invite you all to hop aboard this historic train. I can promise you it can be the one issue that unifies us this Session and for all our years to come. Start Me Right is a balanced three pronged package that involves bipartisan, public and private sector teamwork approach. The three prongs are like three legs of a stool with the child sitting atop the stool. The three legs, all of which are equally important and require a balanced approach, include; first the child in the home, secondly the child in child care, and thirdly the child in the community. Now I'd like to give you a quick course on brain development. It's very much a situation of nature and nurture, not one of the other which we've often heard debated. The kind of nourishment and care a child receives affects not only the wiring of their brain, but also the qualities of her and his experiences well beyond their first years.

Many parents and caregivers have understood intuitively that every day interactions, cuddling, singing, etc, they all matter. Now there is technological proof from neuro scientists that tender loving care, TLC, helps that child. Those billions of neurons they're born with need to be connected and when they're connected, hopefully in a positive way, with TLC we make that child agile for life. As I said, a new baby arrives with a 100 billion independent neurons. They multiply to trillions of independent, unconnected neurons in the first few years. The child's job is to connect these as much as possible and the connections are called synapses. They form the networking and the wiring for life. Positive interactions with caring adults stimulate a child's brain profoundly causing synapses to grow and existing connections to be strengthened. Those synapses in a child's brain tend to become permanent fixtures. If a child receives little stimulation early on, synapses will not sprout or develop and the brain will make far fewer connections. We see some of that in our high GPA costs. A child's experiences can be good or bad. As for stress, those children who are highly stressed, a child responds to stress with a steroid hormone called cortisol. High levels of cortisol cause the death of brain cells and reduction in connections between the cells in certain areas in the brain. Research in adults who have experienced intense activation of this stress system show shrinkage of certain brain regions important to learning and memory. In short, a child's early experiences are more decisive than we intuitively estimated before now.

On an up note, nature has provided a way of buffering the negative effects of these stress systems in the brain. Strong attachments between children, their parents, and their caregivers help counter all the negative effects. Studies measuring the levels of cortisol in children's saliva show that those who received warm responsive care were able to turn off this stress sensitive response more quickly and efficiently. Early experiences, whether positive or negative, heavily influence brain development. My point is everyone's brain development is equal to economic development. In this state we're constantly looking for our economic edge, our competitive edge to compete with other states. If we show ourselves to be a family friendly business state by nurturing that early brain development and by showing everyone in this world that we care about kids, it contributes in the short term and the long term to our economic development. That basically in the short term parents can show up to work a little less worried about their children, knowing they're in good care and their brains get developed to the point where those kids, when they get out of high school, become much more agile. There's a study in this area called High Scope Perry Preschool Study. It comes from the 1970's where 126 at risk children were put into a quality care environment in the early years and their progress was monitored through first grade, through sixth grade, through twelfth grade and beyond. And guess what folks. They started school more ready. Those 126 at risk kids, as compared to the control group that didn't get quality care, did better grade wise 1-12. They got into trouble less often, in terms of juvenile justice issues in the teen years. They tended to go on to school after high school. Their aspirations were higher and they tend to make more money and have a higher quality of living now. This is the study that tracks 126 kids from the 1970's. It's a study done by people who are thought to be very credible. As Sergeant Friday on Dagnet used to say, the facts, ma'am, just the facts. I'll try to get to the facts. The number of children in Maine are 300,000 plus. The number of children needing reliable care is about 70,000. The number of slots available, if the parents can afford it, that are both licensed and inspected is 40,000. That means we have about 18,000-25,000 kids, who knows where they are. We heard about one of those kids last summer. That shaken baby out of Old Orchard Beach. An illegal operation. No one there to help that kid. That kid's now dead. Number of families receiving subsidies are 8,000. The subsidies are anywhere from $15 to $25 in my district for $90 a week care. It doesn't cover the cost. The parents are doing the best they can with what little money they have and we've managed to get a little money in there. The bulk of the money in LD 1315 goes to those kids and those parents getting help paying for those slots so they can get quality care. Quality care means they are better able to function in all of their lives in those critically important years. The average wage of a child care worker is $6.79. The average wage of the average Mainer is $9.63. A full $3.00 less. In my district, in my county there was a front page article a few months ago saying we pay our child care workers less than we pay our dog shelter workers. That's a major statement. We can do better, especially in this state. We've asked anyone why they live in Maine? It's because it's a great place to raise kids. Basically the number one issue I hear in terms of why people choose to live, and stay, and work in Maine, it's because of the kids. I want our policies to reflect that we really care about our kids. Skipping through, I'll basically end by saying I invite you to join us today to vote for this Bill. We know it will get whittled down with time, but it's an evenly balanced package; the child in the home, the child in child care, and the child in the community. Today we're dealing with LD 1315, the child in child care. We need help. We've neglected this area. This area employs as many as Bath Iron Works, over 6,000 people. It puts millions into the economy. Brain development is economic development. It's an area where we need help. There are huge dividends to be gained by our investment and I encourage you all to join us in starting Maine right. Thank you very much for listening.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Harriman

Senator HARRIMAN: Thank you very much Mr. President. Good afternoon ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I'm just wondering, as I've read over this Bill and I've talked to people who have advocated for it's Passage. It's certainly easy to understand why you'd want to vote for this. This is about kids and their future and their development. I just want to make sure that I understand that this Bill, which I understand is also part of several more that are heading our way, has been as carefully thought out as they need to be. It appears to me and I think my good friend from Penobscot, Senator Mitchell, eluded that this Bill will create 10 new positions within the state budget to administer the social services that are going to be purchased. So I guess I'm wondering if anyone can share with me whether the priorities that we've established with this initiative are in the right order. More specifically it seems to me we've heard a lot about the need for parents to be first teachers of our children. I certainly support and endorse that concept. Therefore it seems to me that we may want to take a second look at our priorities as it relates to whether or not we are making it easy for parents to stay home and nurture their children, whether it's a husband or a wife. Therefore, I'm curious to know if the tax package that would make it easier for parents to stay at home was considered? And if so, why it's not before us today? Second, it seems to me that we'd want to make sure that parents can have the highest quality daycare available and for them to choose where that can be best delivered. I would ask if anyone can address the notion of creating incentives from a tax point of view for daycare expenses. Lastly, if this Bill is one of several that are going to grow in the budget, I'm told, perhaps as much as $40 million a year, it's incumbent upon us to craft a budget responsibly. And I'm wondering if there are suggestions here in the Chamber as to where that funding ought to come from. As you are perhaps aware, the Governor's budget that is before us has spent all of the money that's been projected. So this program, certainly worthy, needs to take the place of some other and I would welcome your guidance on that as well. Thank you Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Senator from Cumberland, Senator Harriman poses a question through the Chair to anyone who may wish to answer. The Chair recognizes the Senator from Arostook, Senator Paradis.

Senator PARADIS: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate. The Health and Human Services Committee has met daily, I think except for 2 days out of the Session. Since we showed up here we've been in that Committee room every day. I can assure the Senators that our distinguished Committee members have been religious about attending hearings, listening to the debates, working very, very hard to craft the best legislation possible. Is it perfect? I doubt if it's perfect. I stated very specifically that this legislation, if it were to pass in the Senate, would be going on to the next group to be reviewed. In terms of where are we getting the money? Where are we getting all the money to pay all the corrections, all the incredible number of programs that we are funding now when the children show up broken? More and more as the good Chief Justice Watham reminded us, his table is getting filled with many of our children that are getting hopelessly broken. This is a very important piece, in terms of the new bodies that we never like to discuss ever hiring anybody. Part of it is the licensing. If we are asking primary unit services to make sure that our children are in housing situations at child care that are appropriate and safe, we need to provide some bodies to get out. It's a huge, huge state, geographically large. Again, the next Committee of jurisdiction can review these issues. Thank you very much, I urge your support.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Franklin, Senator Benoit.

Senator BENOIT: Thank you Mr. President. May it please the Senate, I rise in opposition of the pending motion and want to share with you briefly the reasons why. Sometimes you can define something by saying what it isn't. I am not opposed to the Start Me Right Program and I noticed there are citizens of the State of Maine present with us today who are displaying the logo. They have the right to be here to express themselves. I fight for that right. That's part of our procedure. It's important. I'm not opposed to the new programs that are in this Bill. Toddler and preschool child care, school age child care, subsidies and so forth. Judy and I provided for our three children those very programs at Mrs. Densmore's School down here where the Department of Transportation building is now located.

I want someone to stand in this Chamber today, please, and tell me why we would vote for these new programs at a time when the State of Maine is not paying it's current bills. I want to share with you the frustration of one of the towns in my district and I think the folks here, Start Me Right supporters, ought to hear this. The town of Madrid has a Bill before this Legislature to deorganize the town. Created in 1835, staying together through wars and depression. Now a Bill before this Legislature to break up the town, go deorganized, lose control over schools and roads, and everything else. Why? Because the State of Maine has not been paying it's bills. It's a tragedy. And why is the State not paying it's bills? Because of legislation like this. We know until last Session, the Legislature did not pay it's full share of Tree Growth. Madrid, the town deorganized will vote in November, it's a tragedy. It's 80% of the Tree Growth. It's important then that the State pay it's bills in Tree Growth. Until last Session the State did not pay it's bills. General Purpose Aid, the town struggles with the amount of money the town is paying Madrid. We know the State pays 44% of it's obligation, when by law it should pay 55%. Why in the world before new programs are created and paid for like this, don't we pay our bills? Why? It's so frustrating. This is my third Senate term. It's so frustrating to come here and see this kind of spending at a time when the Legislature and the State are not paying their bills. Somebody, please stand in this Chamber now and tell me how we're going to pay for these new programs and pay our bills that are outstanding. Thank you Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Hancock, Senator Goldthwait.

Senator GOLDTHWAIT: Thank you Mr. President. I'm not able to answer the question posed and if someone is inclined to do that I would defer to them. Otherwise I will proceed. Thank you ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. This is one of the more difficult decisions that I see for myself in this legislative Session. I'm struggling to come to grips with a couple of different aspects of this proposal that I want to share with you and hope that subsequent debate will help me to make up my mind on this very important Bill. I certainly agree with the comments that have been made about it's value. These are definitely programs that are essential to children in the state of Maine and somehow we always manage to find the money when it comes down to a crisis, as in the correction system. But we're never able to field the money up front at the preventive end and that's quite unfortunate. The fiscal impact of this Bill is such that I've been trying to look at the constellation of Start Me Right Bills, all of which I believe have fiscal notes, and tried to make some decisions about where I thought we should put our financial fire power. To acknowledge that this Bill may be a stretch financially for us but that the next Committee to which it is assigned will sort that out seems to me to be an abdication of our responsibility to make those decisions. Perhaps I'm looking at it from the perspective of having once done the very home visits to very young children that are referred to in some of these Bills. I have a different perspective on it. I happen to feel that even among this group of very worthwhile programs we will need to set priorities and with all due respect to the Committee on Appropriations, which I have always admired for the very difficult job it does and does extremely well, their primary responsibility is the bottom line of a balanced budget. I believe that the priorities should be made prior to these Bills arrival there. If we have made responsible decisions about those priorities, I at least am able to passionately defend those in the Committee which will be setting the spending priorities. To take a Bill with a fiscal impact of this magnitude and send it along would leave me rather reluctant to support subsequent Bills that may be coming in front of us. I have selected at least one of those as a significant priority for me and so I'm now trying to weigh my responsibility toward supporting a Bill with an unreachable financial goal, versus supporting a Bill or Bills which I think should come from the first tier, the highest priority programs for children. There is a program with which I was familiar in Maine and this saga started about three years ago and dragged on for an awfully long time in which they were providing an award winning program for home visitation to Maine children who were aged 0, from right after birth, to 1 year old. Because of the rather strange and arcane way in which our Medicaid restrictions are written, this program couldn't receive reimbursement. Even though they were being called on by other states as a mentor in terms of this type of program, we were not able to fund them. Sadly that program has been significantly diminished. So as I look to the range of possible services we might provide for children in Maine, I have to set my own priorities. I have to assess the information we have about child development and think about all of those necessary things which are the most essential, which ones will make the most difference and that's what I'm weighing as I think about this Bill. I appreciate your attention.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Penobscot, Senator Ruhlin.

Senator RUHLIN: Thank you Mr. President. I have heard some eloquent support for this measure today. I don't rise to speak on that. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, a question was asked and I do want to respond to that question. I think so far the debate is on whether or not we're going to make a decision to make a wise and humane investment in our future and create a positive quality of life impact on our future citizens. Well, it's obvious how I feel about it. That's not what I'm here for. The good gentleman from Franklin County did ask whether or not we were paying our bills. I would point out to the Senator, on the record, that Tree Growth was fully funded for the first time in nearly a decade in the 118th Legislature. A proposal has been, a bipartisan effort, unanimously recommended by the Taxation Committee that went through and I believe had great support of the Senate in the 118th. Also in the 118th the recommendations were unanimous in the Taxation Committee. We spent over $100 million getting rid of unpaid bills and gimmicks that were created on necessity, but I'm not going to debate that point. We have made some meaningful steps to pay down our debts. I would also for the record state that I do not feel, frankly, that those debts have been fully paid yet. It depends on what column you want to put them in. We still have some gimmicks left and we still have some unpaid bills. In my estimation, they're unpaid bills. However, it is important that the record reflect the full effort and faith in the immediately previous Legislature to eliminate the great extent of that debt and to fully fund growth and to recommend unanimously full funding for the 119th. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Somerset, Senator Mills.

Senator MILLS: Mr. President and men and women of the Senate, I too am troubled by the presentation of this Bill and the dollar figures that are attached to each of the categories that are contained in LD 1315 and note there's some concern that it passed through the Health and Human Services Committee apparently without any amendment, change, alteration or reflection of the expertise that I understand is available on that Committee. My concern about the process is that it has the appearance of simply delegating their review responsibilities to the Committee on Appropriations in hopes that we here will simply ratify the Bill without in depth examination on the floor.

Among the questions that I have are these, I'm familiar with a number of these programs and I'm aware that there are a substantial flow of both Federal and State money in each of them currently. I don't know from my own knowledge whether the Federal money that is coming into these programs is sufficient to meet the need, but I am aware that in recent years the influx of money for child care into the State of Maine has been phenomenal. There have been great strides made in improving the subsidy programs that we have available to parents who have need of child care in order to go to work. In looking at the numbers here, it's very difficult for me to understand why one particular dollar amount over another may have been chosen for each of the categories identified. I have no personal information about the extent to which these programs are currently funded and why there is a short fall, if there is. It seems to that this Bill raises perhaps more questions than it answers in it's current form. There are many other social needs in our state that aren't being met. General Purpose Aid to Education, primarily among them but also medical needs, not only of children but of some of our senior citizens and even people who are not senior citizens but who simply do not have the money to buy pharmaceutical care to keep themselves alive. I'm aware of so many personal and social needs that are not being met. I don't understand how this particular program meets the challenge of some of the other needs that I perceive that are just as great, if not greater than the ones that are represented by this Bill. For that reason I will be voting against the pending motion.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Waldo, Senator Longley.

Senator LONGLEY: Colleagues of the Senate, starting with the most recent and working back, in terms of questions that have been aired. I disagree with the fact that there has been millions more given to child care from the Federal authorities. To be honest there have been such severe cuts in other areas that the on balance increase is less than $2 million. I say that for the good Senator from Somerset. For the Senator from Cumberland, he had raised three points; the home piece, he said for those parents that are home, well on the Federal level there is a credit now for those parents. Maybe everyone in many of our families have had the luxury of being home. The fact of the matter is for children under 6, roughly 6 out of 10 of both parents have to work. 6 out of 10. As the kids hit age 6 up to age 12, it becomes 3 out of every 4 parents, both have to work. So the fact of the matter in reality is that Ozzie and Harriet now send both Ozzie and Harriet to work. The third piece with helping families in the home, that's the first prong, the home visit piece. Before us today is the second prong. The child when the parents have to go to work. The child in child care. We are very much addressing the home piece.

The Senator from Cumberland also brought up the tax incentive piece. That's the third prong, the child in the community. That is on course too in a very strong way. The last point is where do we turn for the money? I'd like to first say that another piece of this is a children's budget for complete accountability. It's not a passed Bill yet but basically we're saying we will brave the scrutiny to make sure the early money, this preventive money, this money we know gives us $7 of help for every $1 of money we invest. We're willing to be scrutinized with performance measures and more throughout. If in five years we still have 127 kids per 1,000 in Maine schools that need Special Ed, our brain development theories aren't working. In which case we need to reassess our early up front preventive investments. I simply rose to answer questions. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Franklin, Senator Benoit.

Senator BEHOIT: Thank you Mr. President. May it please the Senate, just a brief response if I may to the good Senator from Penobscot, Senator Ruhlin. He is of course right and, as I noted as well, the State did at the last Session, for the first time in a long time pay it's share of Tree Growth. What we are talking about here is $18 million over a 2 year period. I want to remind you of what happened at the last Session and those who were here for the Start Me Right Program, in support of it, have got to hear this as well. Running for this third Senate term I met many of our senior citizens who were pleading with me when I came down here this time to put in a Bill that would give them some relief in their drug expenses. Many of our senior citizens now must choose between diet and drugs, life sustaining drugs, and I think that's a tragedy. At the last Session a Bill sponsored by Representative Brooks would have made more seniors eligible on a basis for this program. What did we do instead? We made no more seniors eligible than were eligible, but we added seven more medical conditions to the list, raising it to twelve. That was a positive thing to do. We did nothing to make more seniors eligible. There was a Bill costing $2 million that we turned down, that would have made more seniors eligible. On a basis to come within the program for drug assistance, now 20% is paid by those who are eligible for the cost of drugs. I have many constituents, and you do too, elderly who have earned their stripes. All they're asking is some relief against high drug expenses. I propose to work for that. There are many Bills before us, I have one of them, to set up some kind of sliding scale basis to make seniors eligible for some help. Those who have incomes just over the line, the cut off, they can't get a dime's worth of help in their drugs. Making a choice between diet and drugs. It's a tragedy. What are we doing? New programs for the youth. It's positive. Everything here is positive. I join Senator Longley in everything she's saying about what this does in a positive way. But for heaven's sake let's pay our bills in the programs that we have first, and then if we have enough money I'll be the first to vote for something like this. Education 44%, instead of 55%. Isn't it better to comply with the law and have us pay our bill the way the very law reads on the books that we passed. Continue paying our Tree Growth, pay for the drug program for the elderly. Maybe they can pay 30% or 40%. They have more income than those on the 20% basis. There's money needed for the elderly. When we pay our bills for existing programs, Mr. President, then we can take up new spending like this. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oxford, Senator Bennett.

Senator BENNETT: Thank you Mr. President. Fellow Senators, I think this debate I've been hearing today has been remarkable and notable for the good spirit with which it's offered. Also, because the issues that I've been hearing are not issues about the merits of these various spending ideas. The questions that have been raised have all been about priorities and budgeting and how we're going to meet the panoply of issues and demands that our constituents are asking us for. The good Senator from Aroostook, Senator Paradis, suggested in her remarks that the Committee worked hard and crafted the best Bill possible. With all deference I wish that I had faith in that conclusion. I look at this Bill and it is an Ought to Pass Report. There's no Amendment here. What it tells me is this Bill was passed the way that it came to the Committee. That the Committee process didn't work effectively. Maybe it was just a good idea just the way it was. I have yet to see a Bill, which spends $17 or $18 million in a new program, get enacted into law just the way it was presented. So my faith is shaken a bit that this Bill is the best that it could be. The good Senator from Waldo, Senator Longley, began her remarks about synapses and for me there is important connective tissue that is missing from this Bill. It's the tissue between the resources, the money and the outcome, the better developed children, stronger families. This Bill in my view, as drafted and as passed by the Majority Report, is overly reliant on the Department of Human Services. It sort of waves a wand and says create some rules to spend some money. I don't think that's good enough. Not when we're creating a new program. Not in these time when we have competing demands as we've heard on the floor today. I think we owe it to our constituents, if we think this is a good idea to tell them exactly who's going to benefit. The need I've heard is 26,000 families or children, I'm not sure which, with a price tag of up to $40 million, I think per year. I may be wrong on that. If that's the case, how am I going to choose the people who are going to benefit from this directly? This as I understand it only funds 2,000 families or children, I'm not sure which. How are we going to address that central question of who's going to benefit and who going to be left behind until we have more money. Those are the sorts of issues that I think the Committee should address because I've served on the Appropriation Committee and I've been down there and listened to hundreds of good ideas. I think in my service in two years down there in the 118th Legislature I heard of only two ideas which I thought were completely without merit. I won't get into those today. They're all good ideas, but we have to set priorities and I don't think this Bill as drafted does that. It doesn't even address the priorities. Not the external priorities of should we be doing this versus something else. How are we going to set the priorities that this Bill demands us to set? Again we wave the wand and tell the hard working people, the Department of Human Services that they're going to figure that out. I don't think that's good enough.

I just want to make one other point and that is, as we talk about priorities and we talk about the other unmet needs, it occurred to me that Head Start has been shown to work, it does start kids right. It does give them a head start. A couple of studies that I'm familiar with show that in the course of events the advantage which Head Start kids get is an advantage lost or at least obliterated by the fourth grade. Why is that? I think it is because in part we lack the attention and we lack the follow up necessary to make the best of these programs. We're already spending money in areas, General Purpose Aid. We're all in this building saying, Republicans and Democrats alike, we don't spend enough on General Purpose Aid. If we're going to start kids right let's make sure what's going to follow that healthy start is going to be continued in the commitments that we're already supposedly making. For those reasons I'll be voting against the pending motion. Frankly I'd like to see this Bill go back to the Committee of jurisdiction and be considered. I don't think it's fair to take this Bill down to the Appropriations Committee in its current form because they don't have the time, they don't have the expertise to fine-tune it the way it needs to become a better Bill. They can pass judgment as they will on the amount of money, but I think this will suffer if this Bill makes it to the Appropriations Committee. It will suffer because of the lack of prioritization and the lack of detail in this document. I think the programs that this outlines will, therefore, get less funding than they would if this Bill were better built, better drafted, better developed. For those reasons I'll be opposing the pending motion and I thank you for your time.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Knox, Senator Pingree.

Senator PINGREE: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, we've had a lot of discussion this morning and I will try to be brief in my comments. I just wanted to speak to a few issues. I actually think that this is a very good Bill and I'm particularly comfortable voting for this Bill and very happy that we are now taking up this issue before us. I think the Sponsor did a good job. I think the Committee majority members did a great job with it and I think the coalition of people who have been working on this issue for a long time have done a great job putting this before us. I am not one of the people who thinks this is a new program. In fact we've been involved in child care as a state for a very long time through AFDC and TANF. I also think that any of us who are parents, or have neighbors who are parents or grandparents or anything else, know that child care is not exactly new. In fact struggling with child care is something that families do all the time in this state and it's a very big issue about maintaining a quality workforce. This tremendous issue about child development, as you've already heard from much eloquent testimony about this morning, I think this is a very critical issue in front of us.

One other thing I want to talk about briefly is the process here. I think we have an excellent process. I think Bills come out of Committee, we talk about the fiscal impact, but we also talk about the merit, and this Bill has merit. I am very confident that when this Bill is in front of the Appropriations Committee, even though I don't always like what they do in front of their Committee, they will be very judicious with the Bill and they will make sure we spend no more than we afford. We ourselves will also do that again, when this Bill comes back to us, if it does, in the budget. We will make the final decision about how to spend our resources and what our priorities are. I want to say that all of us bring issues before the Legislature. All of our Committees bring issues before the Legislature. We advocate for the things we care about and we present each other what we think would be the best plan. The very best plan for child care is what we see in front of us. It's the fiscal note we see in front of us. Drug cost for senior citizens was brought up today by the good Senator from Franklin, Senator Benoit, and I certainly support his concerns and I've been very interested in this issue for a long time. When I proposed for my special Committee last year that we look into spending more on that, I actually brought a Bill with a fiscal note of $7 million before this body that we approved. It went to Appropriations and it came out with $2 million. It's not unusual for that to happen. I think we as Committee members and as Sponsors of the Bill advocate for exactly what we think the program needs and we count on the process for doing some of the trimming and prioritizing that will happen when people have every issue in front of them on the table. I'm very comfortable supporting this today and I'm very comfortable with the process that will occur if this Bill passes and urge all of you to vote in favor of the Majority Report.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Washington, Senator Cassidy.

Senator CASSIDY: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, I'll be brief also because I know that just a few of us speaking now are between you and probably lunch somewhere. One of the concerns I have is I went through this Bill and listened to the debate this morning and talked about it earlier in the day. I agree that we do have a process in logistics that we currently use to provide assistance to folks in child care and all those sorts of things that we need. And I must tell you that often times as I travel through my district, I know child care is a real big issue with the folks back in my area as well. The thing that stuck out to me in this particular Bill was I don't understand through the logistics and process that we have why we need to add 10 more folks to the payroll. If you look at the fiscal note it's over $300,000 the first year, almost $400,000 the second year. I would rather take that $800,000 or $900,000 and it will just increase and increase as time goes on, and put it directly to the folks who are assisting with their child care. I just know that we have tons of folks working in the Department now. I know that's probably the largest part of our State budget we've heard that on the floor before and I can't imagine that we need to add another 10 folks to do this job and to hand out the money as presented in the Bill. I think also that you know over the years when you start looking at trying to make cuts throughout the State departments it's really, really tough to decide and bite the bullet. Usually we always end up doing it through attrition or something. I hate to see us go down that road. If we're going to spend money I'd rather see us put it directly to the folks that really need it and not hiring a lot more people. Lastly I too will not be supporting this and hope that we can move on and move the Minority Report. Thank you Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Amero.

Senator AMERO: Thank you Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I rise today because I want to also give my two cents on this Bill which I think has a lot of merit to it. However, I'm afraid that what we're doing if we follow the good Senator from Knox, Senator Pingree's lead is that we're raising false expectations for a lot of people in the state of Maine. We all ran for election with grand ideas on how we can improve the lot of people, and the children in particular, of the state of Maine. I think sometimes we lose our focus because we want to do so much. I know all of you have received letters from school boards across the state of Maine saying to us, you legislators owe us $150 million that you promised and you've never paid us. That's a big chunk of money. I think if we could focus on that commitment now that we do have some surplus money and make sure that our schools get the money that they need so that when these young people get to our schools that we don't drop the ball with them. So I'd like to make a plea today for us to focus on where we can best spend our money and as Senators do our job of prioritizing within our own minds because I think just sending every good idea down to Appropriations is not fair to that Committee. It doesn't give Appropriations a real insight into how this Body feels as to where they should be setting priorities. So I would plead with you to oppose the pending motion so that we can go on and support the Minority Report which does appropriate some funds for a program we all know works. That's Head Start and Head Start does give kids a head start. Let's make sure as the good Senator from Oxford, Senator Bennett, says when these students do get a good start and get to our schools that the money is there to provide for continued education through their public school years. Thank you Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Douglass.

Senator DOUGLASS: Mr. President. Women and men of the Senate, I've tried to be quiet. I will be, I hope, only one minute. I know we want to eat. This is an important aspect of life in Maine, caring for our children. I myself found that the daycare that I was using many years ago closed because it could no longer afford to function at rates that were affordable for the parents that were going there. That was a place called A Child's Place in Auburn. It was a wonderful, wonderful daycare. It had peeling paint but the staff provided that tender loving care. They held children in their arms as they left and I had one of those children who cried every day when I left him. When that facility closed there was really no alternative for me. I think it's important to recognize that in order to get child care onto the State's radar screen, we need to have a function that the State performs, not simply Head Start, that is going to have some desirable spin off effect. If some people in Maine are lucky enough to qualify for whatever funding does finally come out of Appropriations for this Bill that will help to keep certain child care centers or home care functioning and it will thereby help other parents to find that child care. I think it's important that we recognize this has not been even one of our unprioritized subjects so far. We have simply neglected it. It's time for us to make sure that we say this is something we want to try to put into our budget. I'll call it our family budget and let Appropriations do their work to decide what is advisable for this particular need. It's very basic. It's the start of life. Children are in care now that is not good care. That's one of the reasons that there are a lot of special education needs out there. We need to make sure that we make a statement and say it's time. Put this on our radar screen and establish it as one of many competing priorities, never the less, a priority.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Aroostook, Senator Paradis. Who having spoken twice on this issue requests unanimous consent of the Senate to address the Senate a third time. Is this the pleasure of the Senate? It's a vote. The Senator may proceed.

Senator PARADIS: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, I do hesitate to rise a third time, however, I have to apologize with every fiber in my being for having been under the mistaken illusion that if this legislation passes it will find it's way to the Appropriations Table. I just was always under the illusion that they took Bills and they worked them. I don't know where I got that impression but it would be very, very easy for a lot of us to walk away from this. Apparently we have walked away from it forever. We're dead last in New England in terms of the money we spend in child care. If this Bill all of a sudden looks a lot for just trying to build some type of child care infrastructure in the state, that's one of the reasons, because we have repeatedly walked away. It is pay now, or pay later. We can find every reason in the world to vote for or against, but it is pay now or pay later. That message was made very, very clear, when these hundreds of people testified. Parents admitted that they were using our care beds at thousands and thousands of dollars as adolescents and then of course they're probably going to go into our adult mental health system. We know that children commit the crimes between 3 and 6 and Maine is not safe from that, it happens here too. So that these people speaking to us made their case. Our Committee worked on it quite diligently. I've offered over the years to people, my fellow legislators to come and observe the process that we follow. I assume that when people didn't show up it was because they were busy. The work was being done. We also have been bringing major speakers from all over the country to speak to us about brain development, to have a bottom line on these things. This is not a stab in the dark. It's not an art. We've made as much of a science of it, as possible. This is a drop in the bucket. It's sending a message out there that this Legislature wants to put an end to the inappropriate use of State dollars and put it up front where it counts. That's the bottom line on this. Let us not lose the big picture. This is about prevention. It's about getting the children in the beginning, not the end. Merci beaucoup.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Waldo, Senator Longley. Who having spoken two times on this issue requests unanimous consent to address the Senate a third time. Is this the pleasure of the Senate? It's a vote. The Senator may proceed.

Senator LONGLEY: Thank you Mr. President. Just the facts. There's 60,000 to 70,000 kids in both legal and illegal care in Maine. Presently we help under 10,000 of them, well under 10,000. 30,000 need help. This Bill makes an attempt to help those 30,000. They live in your district. They live in mine. As one person said if the children are not taken care of, whatever else we do won't matter much. Thank you.
