Joint Resolution

The following Joint Resolution:

H.P. 892

JOINT RESOLUTION
RECOGNIZING APRIL 2017 AS AUTISM AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, autism is a spectrum disorder, which means no 2 people with autism are affected the same way, and it is a complex developmental disability that usually appears during the first 3 years of life and results in a neurological disorder that affects the functioning of the brain and social interaction and communication skills; and

WHEREAS, in the United States, one in 68 children is diagnosed with this spectrum disorder and prevalence has increased 30% since the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's study in 2008; and

WHEREAS, autism knows no racial, ethnic or social boundaries and neither income nor lifestyle nor education affects its occurrence and it is estimated that more than 3,500,000 people live with autism spectrum disorder in the United States; and

WHEREAS, autism costs the United States over $236,000,000,000 in annual health care costs, most of which are in adult services, and these costs are anticipated to increase; and

WHEREAS, while a single specific cause of autism is not known, current research links it to biological or neurological differences in the brain, and outdated theories and myths, such as autism being a mental illness, have been proven to be false; and

WHEREAS, with support, people with autism can live full lives and make meaningful contributions to society; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That We, the Members of the One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Legislature now assembled in the First Regular Session, on behalf of the people we represent, pause in our deliberations to acknowledge that the month of April 2017 is Autism Awareness Month and to pledge our support and encouragement to all those affected by autism; and be it further

RESOLVED: That suitable copies of this resolution, duly authenticated by the Secretary of State, be transmitted to the Autism Society of Maine as a token of our respect and support.

Comes from the House, READ and ADOPTED.

Senate at Ease.

The Senate was called to order by the President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Volk.

Senator VOLK: Thank you, Mr. President. Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I'm not going to speak long on the subject, but, as you all know, April is Autism Awareness Month and this is a subject near and dear to my heart, as well as many of your hearts and the hearts of your constituents. Autism effects one in sixty-eight of the children that are born in the United States and one of the things that we're noticing as these children who were diagnosed are ageing up into adulthood is that they are oftentimes either the victim or even the perpetrators of crime. In fact, people with autism are much more likely to be victims of crime than the general population. Autism is a developmental disability and so I think that later on in this session we'll actually be talking about some legislation that begins to recognize the challenges that this can place on our judicial system and in our criminal justice system. I would just ask for attention when we get to those subjects and that you would consider this special population and their families when those do come up. Thank you.

ADOPTED, in concurrence.

Senate at Ease.

The Senate was called to order by the President.

Senator VOLK of Cumberland requested and received leave of the Senate to withdraw her motion to TABLE until Later in Today's Session.

Senator VOLK of Cumberland was granted unanimous consent to address the Senate on the Record.

Senator VOLK: Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, thank you for your indulgence as I rise another time because today we actually have some really special guests up in the Senate Gallery. It is my pleasure to speak this morning on behalf of the Gorham High School Girls Basketball Team who recently won the Class AA State Championship. This is actually their second consecutive undefeated season. They have won 42 games and two consecutive State Championships. Before every game Coach Berthiaume reminds the girls, "We're chasing perfection." Their goal was to win the Championship and preserve their undefeated season, and they did so in amazing fashion. When the score was tied at half-time Gorham's defense came out strong during the second half. The Gorham Rams did not trail again for the rest of the game. Not many teams can say that they have won a State Championship. Even fewer can say that they have won back-to-back State Championships and 42 consecutive games. I'm very proud of this group of student athletes. There are three young women on this team who will be continuing to play basketball throughout their college careers in the fall: Kaylea Lundin will be playing at the University of Tampa; Kristen Curley will be playing at U.S.M.; and Emily Esposito will be playing at Villanova this fall. The girls are joined by their coaching staff: Coach Laughn Berthiaume and Assistant Coach Aaron Ouellette. They've worked extremely hard to get to where they are and I just want to read their names because, unfortunately, they were printed incorrectly in the calendar. We have Kaylea Lundin, Alexis Fotter, Kristen Curley, Michelle Rowe, Courtney Brent, Emily Esposito, Sarah Stevens, Sarah Walker, Brook Woodbury, and Jackie Hamilton with us today, in addition to their coaches. They've worked extremely hard to get to where they are and it is my pleasure to congratulate them in front of this Body. Thank you very much, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: Would the State Champion Gorham High School Girls Basketball Team and their coaches please rise and accept the congratulations of the State Senate.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Cyrway.

Senator CYRWAY: Good morning, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I'm so pleased to have with us today Kiara Carr, a student from Temple Academy. As a member of Temple Academy's Girls Basketball Team, during her junior year, Kiara joined an elite group of Maine student athletes who have reached, and she's reached, 1,000 accumulative points in their high school career. Kiara was not done there. At the end of this past season, Kiara had reached 1,433 points. This is incredible. There is no doubt that Kiara is an extremely talented athlete. The amount of time and dedication that it took one to reach such an accomplishment must be very great and Kiara was able to reach this achievement all while balancing the demands of her schoolwork and other extracurricular activities. Also joining us today is Kiara's strongest supporters: her parents, Michelle and Michael Carr; her sister, Deleyni Carr; her grandparents, Diana Carr, Susan and George Clark, and Ken and Lori Pelotte; as well as Mike Gorman, Temple Academy's Athletic Director. Family members, especially parents, and school officials play such a big role in making sure our young people are successful and it is a team effort. Kiara has a very bright future ahead of her. After she graduates she plans to pursue basketball, which sounds like a good idea to me, and also a career in occupational therapy. I'm so proud to have such a talented student athlete in my district. Congratulations, Kiara, and best wishes as you make your future plans. Thank you.

Senator MAKER: Thank you, Mr. President. Good morning, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. It is truly an honor for me to recognize the Tigerettes of Shead High School on their Class D North Championship win. The team had a terrific season, earning their second straight Class D regional title. The regional title game was very competitive and exciting to watch. The Tigerettes had to overcome a deficit going into the second half, but were able to come out on top with a 32 - 29 win following Holly Preston's steal of an inbound pass. While the Tigerettes are repeat regional champions, this season was not the same as the previous one. Five of the team's members from the previous season had graduated, meaning this year's team had to rebuild and younger members had to step up. For a small school to be able to overcome these obstacles and defend their regional title is remarkable. It really speaks to the perseverance of each of these young women. They were willing to put in many hours of practice because they each had the same drive to win. We really have some great talented young people in Washington County and I'm glad this group could join us today so they can be recognized and see how very proud of them we are. Congratulations to the Shead Tigerettes. Thank you, Mr. President.

Reports READ.

Senator WOODSOME of York moved the Senate ACCEPT the Minority OUGHT NOT TO PASS Report, in NON-CONCURRENCE.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Washington, Senator Maker.

Senator MAKER: Thank you, Mr. President. Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I rise today in opposition of the current motion and in support of An Act to Extend Internet Availability in Rural Maine to help Washington County libraries to provide badly needed technology to some of the state's most in need, at risk families who just don't have access to on-line educational resources and opportunities. In rural Maine it is far too common to see a bunch of cars in the library parking lot trying to grab an internet signal. Some don't have access to quality internet in their part of town. Others don't have the resources to purchase internet services. So a few years ago a local library stepped up and put in for a grant funding to provide hot spots to area families in need. That funding has run out and the cash-strapped communities that applied for the funding are having to discontinue the program at a time when many Washington County families have no place, other place, to go. We talk a lot about broadband access. We also talk a lot about educational attainment. I would submit that continuing this program for two more years to meet both goals while Washington County's capacity for reliable broadband continues to improve. Some may say that the libraries ought to put up the money and continue the program if they see it as worthwhile. While I don't disagree with this, if you've lived in Washington County any length of time you would realize, like many other basic resources in the area, libraries are hand-to-mouth operations, staffed by volunteers, who don't have big endowments and funding sources. They are stretched, depleted, and often the first thing to go when budgets are crunched and cut. There are only so many bake sales and benefit suppers you can do. Every charity in the area approaches the same businesses and community-minded individuals for help. It just isn't something that our area has the capacity to do on its own. So if we're going to do carve-outs with specific areas of the state, maybe those of us from Washington County and rural Maine ought to stand up for this one, realizing that if there ever was a part of the state that needed help we are in it. I urge you to follow my light. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Dion.

Senator DION: Thank you, Mr. President. I rise in support of my colleague from Washington County. We talk a lot about broadband access in this state. It's big words for a big policy issue that takes on a dimension that we lose sight of. This particular bill makes it human. This particular initiative was to answer the need of kids who have to wait their turn to get a piece of technology. I'll quote the sponsor; "Some kind of gadget." Some kind of gadget that lets the kids in my district access the internet so they can meet the educational attainment. What struck me was when they can't get it, as the good Senator from Washington County accounts for, they line up as close as they can to the library so they can capture the signal there. That's not how I wanted my children to access their education and I suspect that's not how you want your children or grandchildren to do the same. Here's what really bothered me, the story from the sponsor was the idea that when Washington County and Jonesport needed that relief they did not get it from this Body or the other. They received money from the New York City Library. It was residents of the City of New York who extended charity to citizens of Maine so that their children could be educated at the same level of technology that my children enjoy in Portland. It just doesn't seem right. We'll deal with a billion dollar budget, Mr. President, I think we can carve out $50,000 for two years for the people of Washington County. I have no dog in this fight. I have broadband. I enjoy all the benefits that technology promises in my district. It's incumbent on me and those who share in that access to ensure that every child in this state can benefit from that technology, free and clear as they should, and not hope for charity from an outside agency in a far away state to meet their interests. So I oppose the motion and would ask for your support and I'd ask for a roll call as well, Mr. President.

On motion by Senator DION of Cumberland, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The pending question before the Senate is the motion by the Senator from York, Senator Woodsome, to Accept the Minority Ought Not to Pass Report, in Non-Concurrence. A Roll Call has been ordered. Is the Senate ready for the question?

On motion by Senator BELLOWS of Kennebec, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Bellows.

Senator BELLOWS: Thank you, Mr. President. I rise in opposition to the pending motion. One of our jobs as a State Legislator is to stand up against dangerous federal mandates that we believe might compromise the security and freedom of Mainers and this bill is not a debate between privacy and security. I believe the pending motion would harm both privacy and security because what it would do is require the State of Maine to set up a system to retain documents relating to license or ID applications for up to ten years. From my perspective, it is madness for our state to spend millions of taxpayer dollars to set up what will be a treasure-trove for identity thieves. With any centralized database, particularly when there are not enough resources to keep pace with the technology developed by hackers and thieves, it's not a question of if the data will be breached but when and to what consequences, and I urge you to consider the costly consequences of the State if Maine's Real ID database were breached, allowing identity thieves to rob all Maine license holders of their identity. The pending motion in compliance would make Maine a one-stop shop for identity thieves. It is absolutely not true that Maine's licenses are fundamentally any less secure than any other state's. What does Real ID compliance really mean? What did they say we were not compliant with? It was centralization of our data, collection of our photos for facial recognition technology, and fingerprinting of the DMV employees. It is also fundamentally not true that all of the other states are compliant when we are not. The largest state in the union, California, is not compliant and yet received an extension until 2020 based on a promise to try to comply in the future. South Carolina recently received an extension when Republican Governor Haley, before her elevation to the Trump administration, and Republican Representative Mark Sanford urged the Department of Homeland Security under Trump to give them an extension, which the Obama administration denied Maine. So I urge the Body to reject this motion. The choice is not to accept this motion and to do nothing. The Minority Report offers a different route. What it does is allocate the same exact amount of funding to provide for Mainers a passport card or a passport. So I would just say that the choice is not between this motion and doing nothing. There is another choice and I urge this Body to protect the privacy and security of all Mainers just as you did in 2005 and 2007 when Maine led the way in expressing its concerns about the federal Real ID because of the threats to privacy and security that this federal unfunded mandate placed upon our state. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Chipman.

Senator CHIPMAN: Thank you, Mr. President. I just wanted to say a few things about this as well before we vote. There's been a lot of, I don't want to say, myths out there, but misunderstandings, I guess, about this law. One of those is that Maine is one of only five states that are out of compliance with Real ID. The fact of the matter is there are 25 states out of compliance with Real ID and most of those states were granted waivers or extensions until at least 2020. One thing we've heard is that Maine must comply with Real ID so Mainers can get on commercial flights, to access federal facilities, but the truth is Mainers can use passports, passport cards, and other documentation to board commercial flights and enter federal facilities. In fact, at least 400,000 Mainers already have passports or passport cards, so they can use those. Anyone who is eligible for Real ID is by definition eligible for another ID that would also be accepted. According to the Department of Homeland Security, lack of ID should never interfere with access to healthcare. We've heard that getting a Real ID is easier than getting a passport card, however I'd point out that getting a Real ID is like getting a driver's license for the first time. Consumers have to show more documentation, there is increased wait times at the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, and, while passport cards last for ten years, a Real ID will have to be renewed as often as a driver's license, every seven years, I believe. A passport card costs $55 for the first time and only $30 for renewal every ten years, so it's less than a driver's license over time. The government is collecting our information anyways, so privacy is over. We've heard that argument as well. I'd like to point out that the fact is the Real ID Act requires the government to collect, store, and be able to access more sensitive information than ever before. The government will store a photograph of anyone who applies for Real ID, even if you were denied. The government will store copies of your Social Security card, birth certificate, and more. I'd also like to point out, Mr. President, that Real ID will require the Secretary of State to build a whole new system for licensing. This will cost about $3 million to build. This is a giant unfunded federal mandate and the Minority Report on this bill does come with a price tag to provide passport cards to those who can't afford them, but it's much less than the requirement of $3 million to build a whole new system, so it would actually cost us less money, doesn't require the storing of all the data, and allows us to still comply to access these facilities. So I would ask you to please join me in voting down the pending motion. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Brakey.

Senator BRAKEY: Thank you, Mr. President. I rise in opposition to the motion here. I think there's just a few things I'd like to put on the record. First of all, the Real ID Act was slipped through Congress in an Iraq War - Tsunami Relief Supplemental bill in 2005. There was no hearing and no opportunity for public comment. This Act is a giant unfunded federal mandate and it will create enormous initial on-going administrative burden and cost for states. It will also create burdens for individual citizens, including a higher cost and longer wait for licensing, and it is far from clear that these extraordinary costs will bring any benefit in preventing terrorism. Before states spend any substantial resources Real ID will require, they owe it to their citizens to sincerely question the necessity and efficacy of implementing the Real ID Act. Real ID changes the very nature and mission of DMVs from agencies responsible primarily for insuring the safe operation of vehicles on state roadways into a wide ranging enforcement agent of the federal government. Once Maine complies with Read ID there is no turning back. The federal government can change the rules at any time. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Diamond.

Senator DIAMOND: Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, as you've heard, in 2005 the Real ID Act was passed by Congress. Whether we liked it or not, they did it and there is certainly evidence that would suggest they could have made some corrections through the last ten years. In 2007 Maine said we were prohibited from becoming part and complying with the Real ID Act. So for the last ten years we've had waivers, waivers that said okay you've got another year. You have another year. Well this year the Department of Homeland Security has said that's it, no more waivers for anybody unless you're already in the queue. Enforcement has started. As of January 30th of this year Maine driver's licenses are not allowed or recognized as identification in any federal facility that requires such, including military bases. It impacts our veterans. It impacts our businesses who have products back and forth on these bases. It impacts our firefighters and police who have already been turned away from training sessions in Washington D.C. because they could not get into the building with their driver's license. Starting January 22nd of next year chaos really rains down on our constituents and the people of the State of Maine because at that time our driver's licenses will not be authorized or recognized for our people to get on airplanes, commercial airlines. If you want to see disruption and chaos back home because we didn't act, not just this year but for the last ten years, knowing full well that the deadline was before us, then we will see that and we all will hear that, and we should. The Transportation Committee, led by the good Senator from York, Senator Collins, did a great job working on this bill. They ended up with a bi-partisan 12 - 1 report with an opt out provision. If someone believes strongly that, for philosophical reasons, they do not want their information kept at the state level, not the federal level but the state level, than they can opt out. Forty-five states have either complied or are in the process of complying. That's a fact. Our constituents back home deserve our action and our attention because to turn our back and walk away and say we'll come up with something else maybe a little later certainly does not do them justice. They're depending on us. We need to act and support this motion, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Bellows.

Senator BELLOWS: The good Senator from Cumberland, Senator Diamond, and I completely agree that we must act and help our constituents. We all want Mainers to be able to access federal facilities, military bases, and to board planes. There is another choice and no one is suggesting that we take no action. It is to my dismay that President Obama did not fix the Real ID or repeal the problematic provisions during the eight years of office, but Maine was denied the federal waiver not under President Trump but by President Obama in November, unfortunately. So there is an opportunity to have this burdensome federal mandate repealed. So the question is not to pass this or to do nothing. The question is: do we use these funds to give our citizens a real benefit, broader access to passport cards and passports, to enable them to travel to Canada and Mexico and to enter these facilities and do we continue to advocate, as we are doing in a bi-partisan way nationally, to ask the federal government to repeal this regulation that was issued by the Department of Homeland Security without, again, no public hearing in Congress? So I urge you to oppose this pending motion not to do nothing but to do something that strengthens the privacy and security of Mainers.

THE PRESIDENT: The pending question before the Senate is the motion by the Senator from York, Senator Collins, to Accept the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended by Committee Amendment "A" (S-17) Report. A Roll Call has been ordered. Is the Senate ready for the question?

Off Record Remarks

Senator LANGLEY of Hancock was granted unanimous consent to address the Senate on the Record.

Senator LANGLEY: Mr. President, I rise today to ask that when we adjourn today that we do so in the memory of Irv Kornfield. Irv Kornfield is the husband of my co-Chair in the Education Committee, Representative Tori Kornfield. Irv Kornfield passed away Tuesday morning after a long battle with cancer. He and Representative Kornfield and I share a common bond of all having graduated from Syracuse University. Irv battled with cancer, as I said, and succumbed early Tuesday morning. This session has been so extremely difficult for Representative Kornfield. Your thoughts and prayers would be welcomed and there is a ceremony for him, a gathering, 4 - 6 p.m. tomorrow evening at Brookings Smith Funeral Home in Bangor. Thank you, Mr. President and men and women of the Senate.

Off Record Remarks

Senator GRATWICK of Penobscot was granted unanimous consent to address the Senate on the Record.

Senator GRATWICK: Thank you very much, Mr. President. Indicate, again, sadness at the passing of Irv Kornfield. Extraordinary man. Both he and his wife, Representative Kornfield, have been good friends for a very long time. He was a forensic pathologist, which is to say he specialized in different blood tests they used on animals and people and so forth. He was a teacher at the University. He got his students all excited about microbiology. He was an evolutionary geneticist. He traveled all over the world. Very distinguished scientific career and he also has a marine mollusk, I think it is, named after him, the Austrocuma kornfieldi. Distinguished accomplishment. Thank you very much, Mr. President.
